

This privacy policy applies to information Outreach Angels collect about individuals who interact with our organisation. It explains the personal information we collect & how we use it. If you have any comments or questions please contact us at www.outreachangels.co.uk

1. Personal data that we process

The following table explains the types of data we collect & the legal basis, under current data protection legislation, on which the data is processed.

Purpose	Data (key elements)	Basis
Enquiring about our organisation & its work	Name, email, message	Legitimate interests – it is necessary for us to read & store your message so that we can respond to it in the way that you would expect.
Making a donation	Name, email, message, payment information,	Legitimate interests – it is necessary for us to fulfil your intention of donating money & your expectation of a confirmation message.
Signing up as a volunteer	Name, email, contact number, address, date of birth, emergency contact details	Contract – by signing up as a volunteer you have entered into a contractual agreement with us as set out in our volunteer agreement form.

2. How we use your data

We will only use your data in a manner that is appropriate considering the basis on which the data was collected, as set out in the table above. For example, we may use your personal information to:

- Reply to your enquiries you send to us
- Handle donations or other transactions that you initiate
- Where you have specifically agreed to this, send you marketing communications relating to our work which we think may be of interest to you.

3. When we share your data

We will only pass your details onto third parties in the following circumstances:

- You have provided your explicit consent for us to pass data to a named third party

- We are using a third party purely for the purposes of processing data on our behalf and we have in place a data processing agreement with the third party that fulfils our legal obligations in relation to the use of third party data processors
- We are required by law to share your data, including in emergency situations

4. How long we keep your data

We take the principles of data minimisation and removal seriously & have internal policies in place to ensure that we only ever ask for the minimum amount of data for the associated purpose & delete that data promptly once it is no longer required.

Where data is collected on the basis of consent, we will seek renewal of consent at least every 3 years.

5. Rights you have over your data

You have a range of rights over your data, which include the following:

- Where data processing is based on consent, you may revoke this consent at any time and we will make it as easy as possible for you to do this
- You have the right to ask for rectification and/or deletion of your information
- You have the right of access to your information
- You have the right to lodge a complaint with the if you feel your rights have been infringed

If you would like to access the rights listed above, or any other legal rights you have over your data under current legislation, please get in touch with us.

Please note that relying on some of these rights, such as the right to deleting your data, will make it impossible for us to continue to deliver some services to you. However, where possible we will always try to allow the maximum access to your rights while continuing to deliver as many services to you as possible.

6. Cookies & usage tracking

A cookie is a small file of letters and numbers that is downloaded on to your computer when you visit a website. Cookies are used by many websites and can do a number of things, eg remembering your preferences, recording what you have put in your shopping basket, and counting the number of people looking at a website.

Where cookies are used to collect personal data, we list these purposes in section 1 above, along with other personal data that we collect. However, we also use some cookies that do not collect personal information but that do help us collect anonymous information about how people use our website. We use Google Analytics for this purpose. Google Analytics generates statistical and other information about website usage by means of cookies, which are stored on users' computers. The information collected by Google Analytics about usage of our website is not personally identifiable. The data is collected anonymously, stored by Google and used by us to create reports about website usage. Google's privacy policy is available at <http://www.google.com/privacypolicy.html>.

7. Modification

We may modify this Privacy Policy from time to time and will publish the most current version on our website. If a modification meaningfully reduces your rights, we'll notify people whose personal data we hold and is affected.
